NOT WORRIED ABOUT THE BONDS.

MAST NEW-YORK SAVINGS BANK HAS $107,000 LONG ISLAND CITY SECURITIES, AND IS CONFIDENT OF THEIR VALUE.

One of the trustees of the East New-York Savings Bank said yesterday that the president of that institution. Fred Middendorf, had made a mistake saying that the bank held only $20,000 of Long Island City improvement bonds. "As a matter of fact," said the trustee, "we hold bonds amounting to $107,000 of the Long Island City issue. I believe that the bonds are perfectly good, and I know that the interest has been paid up to date."

John M. Linz, the cashier, verified the statement of the trustee, and added that President Middendorf must have misunderstood the question asked him when he made the statement that the bank had only $30,000 of the bonds.

The bank officials have issued a card offering reward of $200 for the apprehension and conviction of the persons or person who started the rumor that the bank was insolvent. A number of small depositors withdrew their accounts yesterday. Mr. Liux said that so far the bank had paid out about $30,000, and that it was ready to meet all demands. He said that day before yesterday a representative of a Manhattan banking house that sold the Long Island City bonds to the East New-York institution called and offered to buy them back at a premium.

DESIRE FOR HARMONY.

Michael J. Dady, chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, yesterday afternoon told a Tribune reporter that the Republican organization aders in Kinge County, as an evidence of good faith, would doubtless place strictly independent Republicans of the highest character in nomina-tion for at least half of the big county offices this

"I am in favor of giving the so called Indepen dents more than half," said Mr. Dady, "but it is impossible to tell what shape the local campaign will assume till after the primaries. Come to office on the morning of September 20, the day following the primaries, and if I win in my Assembly district, as I know, I shall, I'll be in shape to tell what is likely to happen. Mr. Dady was closeted for several hours yesterday with John J. Allen, president of the Brooklyn Republican Club of the First Ward. Mr. Dady's friends have a hard fight on hand to whip ex-Tax Collector R. Ross Appleton in the battle for the control of the Ist Assembly District. Mr. Appleton has barried the fight into the Third Ward, where Mr. Dady lives, and has captured a number of districts there. Dady's friends, on the other hand, assert that they will control four districts in the First Ward.

The feelings of Herr Ritter Adolph von Brandt re reived a severe shock on Friday night at the Star Theatre, when a lot of the "gallery gods," who objected to the conspicuousness of his dress suit. "played horse" with him, as rude boys sometimes The German was arraigned in the Adams-st police court yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by two special officers attached to the theatre. Herr Brandt took on at a furious pace in caurt, declaring that his arrest was an outrage, and that it was his intention to apepal to a higher court of justice.

Brandt, who says he is a count, is tall and thin, with a small head, black goatee and side whiskers of the fuzzy sort. In court yesterday morning he wore a dress suit which had seen better days, and his air was that of a man who had passed a decidedly uncomfortable night. The Count, who is trying to accumulate a fortune by the sale of choice cut flowers, is living temporarily at No. 369 Baltic-He did not have a great deal of money with him on Friday night, and as the box office man re-fuses to cash large checks from noblemen, the Count, instead of paying a quarter for an orchestra chair, invested a smaller sum in a seat reserved for chair, invested a smaller sum in a seat reserved for the "gods."

Only once or twice in a lifetime do the young persons who frequent the gallery have an opportunity of having a live Count in full evening dress at close range. As soon as the Count became interested in the ballet some rude young man proceeded to draw a chalk picture on his back, while another youngster "anointed" him with a lot of peanut shells; still another reached over and pulled his goates. This last was more than the man of noble blood could stand, and he began to strike out savagely at his persecutors. When the special officers arrived the Count demanded that the boys who had troubled him be taken outside and instantly shot, as their offence had been "leze majesty." The Count was so loud in his demands that the officers became angry at him and arrested him. He refused to take his money back at the box office and caused such a disturbance that he was locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct. Magistrate Brenner found him guilty, and imposed a fine of $\mathbb{E}$. Count Ritter Adolph von Hrandt is still an angry man.

RANKIN POST KEEPS ITS PLACE.

MANSFIELD WANTS THE RIGHT OF LINE IN THE PHILADELPHIA PARADE, BUT CANNOT

A request from Mansfield Grand Army Post, of Brooklyn, that it be assigned the right of line in the Brooklyp veterans' column in the parade at the National Encampment, in Philadelphia, has been refused by Rankin Post, which by virtue of its seniority has the right to the first place in the line. Mansfield Post stated in its request that it wished, if possible to march behind its commander. John P. Short, who is to serve as grand marshal of the Brooklyn veterans.

HE IS OUT OF THE SUFFOLK COUNTY RACE FOR A GOVERNMENT OFFICE.

Riverhead, Long Island, Aug. 26.-Elbert W.

Taber has withdrawn from the contest for the ap-pointment of deputy internal revenue collector under Collector Moore, for the district embracing Suffolk County. Taber has the regular indorse ment of the County Committee, and his withdrawal occasioned surprise among the Republicans. A close friend of Mr. Taber said to-day that as he found it was impossible for him to get the office he gracefully retired. Albert M. Darling is backed by ex-Congressman Belford for the place, and has the indorsement of a number of County Committeemen. Those who do not favor his selection say that an indorsement of the County Committee obtained that way is irregular, and that the committee must be in regular session to make any indorsements. Some young Republican will be pushed forward for the place—one who has not had public office. occasioned surprise among the Republicans. A ce. ollector Moore has been well informed of the lation, and the matter has been hung up for a time at least.

A TIMELY COMPLAINT.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: May not a very old reader of your esteemed paper ask you to publish a line or two of complaint on a subject that is vexing the souls and hodies of thousands of people in your sister borough of Brooklyn? I refer to the murderous music, the ceaseless grinding of the Nostrand-ave, trolley cars. There is no end to this dreadful, nerve racking torment, I live in St. Mark's-ave., three hundred feet away from Nostrand, and yet I am as greatly annoyed by the jarring bur-r-r-r as if I lived on that thor-

TROLLEY TRAFFIC DELAYED.

AN ACCIDENT ON THE BRIDGE CAUSED IN THE RAIN WITHOUT SHELTER

Many people received an unexpected ducking yesterday through being obliged to walk across the Bridge on account of a delay to the trolley cars, which was caused by the breaking of the iro dust guard on a motor under one of the cars. The the busy part of a Saturday afternoon, and many made extremely uncomfortable at the delay. To dd to the disgust of the passengers large numbers of them who abandoned their cars and started to walk to the end of the Bridge were caught in the being unable to find any shelter, they were soaked

The accident which caused the delay happened on way about 2 o'clock. A Brighton Beach car, which was carrying many people to the races, was sud was carrying many people to the races, was sud-denly thrown from the track. It was found that the heavy from dust guard which protects the motors had fallen to the roadway and ploughed into the planking. It was useless to try to move the car in either direction as long as the heavy casting anchored it fast. After some delay the mergency wagon appeared, and the crew, by using small derrick, lifted the casting off the roadway. The guard was shored up to the bottom of the car ind the car was taken to the repair shops.

Another clubbing case has resulted in an action for damages in $25,000 which has been brought by Christopher Boughal, a longshoreman against Patrick Bougherty, a policeman of the Fiftieth Precinct. It is said that Boughal and Dougherty had had a fight, and that the policeman had the best of it, after which he jumped on the longshoreman from behind and beat him so badly with his club that Boughal was laid up in bed for fourteen days. It is said that the policeman was looking for revenge at the time for a relative who had been worsted in a quarrel with the longshoreman, and that the policeman left his post and took part in the affair while in full uniform. TWO PEOPLE FOUND DEAD.

BOTH THOUGHT TO HAVE FALLEN FROM WINDOWS IN THE NIGHT.

Two persons were found dead in Brooklyn yes terday morning, and it is supposed that they had fallen by accident from windows in their houses. Elizabeth A. Bathje, seventy-two years old, was found with a fractured skull in the back yard of her home, at No. 146 Stxteenth st., at 5:30 o'clock. The woman had gone to her room on the third floor at an early hour on Friday night, and was apparently in good health. She was accustomed to spend much of her time in a rocking chair at the window, the bottom of which was near the level of the floor. It is supposed that Mrs. Bathje fell asleep and toppled forward out of the window Mrs. Bathje lived with her daughter, Salina E. Reynolds, who in addition to this bereavement has father since March L

A similar case was that of George E, Hawkes thirty-three years old, a son of Henry Hawkes, superintendent of the local Bureau of Distribution, Repairs and Complaints of the Department of Water Supply, and formerly Water Purveyor of Brooklyn. The body of the young man was found n the pavement in the rear of his father's house, at No. 21 Prospect Place, about 6 o'clock yesterday morning. His skull was fractured, and the young man had apparently been dead for some time. The family showed considerable reticence in speaking about the affair, but it was attributed to their grief over the young man's sudden death. It seems that young Mr. Hawkes was not at dinner on FX day night, but telephoned the family explain his absence. He came home late. Kis father thinks it was about 1:30 o'clock in the morning. he had for several days had difficulty in breathing

DR. HEATLEY IS DETERMINED.

HE THREATENS TO ESTABLISH A NEGRO COLONY AT WADING RIVER.

Wading River, Long Island, Aug. 28.-Dr. George W. Heatley, of Brooklyn, a dentist, is engaged in a contest with the natives over the closing of a road which, it is alleged here, has been used as a public highway since 1704. He purchased a large tract of land fronting on the shore, and is building a large dancing and bathing pavilion, and is about to erect a hotel. He has made application to the State Land Commissioners for a grant of the shore fronting his property, and has closed up the old highway leading to the Sound and skirting the shore just above the high water mark. The townspeople have begun a suit in the Supreme Court to determine their rights as to the highway, and are opposing Dr. Heatley's applicafor the grant of land under water.

Last night, with a supply of fireworks, which he set off, he attracted a large crowd of villagers. He made a speech, in which he said he would spend thousands of dollars, if necessary, to obtain the grant of land under water, and that if the people interfered with him he would establish there a negro colony from the South. It is thought that Dr. Heatley has already made arrangements with Mr. Perry, a negro lawyer of Brooklyn, to establish his proposed colony here. Those who are opposing Dr. Heatley say that the highway he wishes to close is the only public road to the beach for a distance east and west of more than ten miles, and that the sand cliffs in either direction are so precipitous that it is impossible to make any road elsewhere.

A GREAT NECK HOTEL SOLD. Great Neck, Long Island, Aug. 26.—The hotel which stands opposite All Saints' Church here has been purchased for $3,500 by Miss Mary A. King, daughter of ex-Governor John A. King, one of the wealthlest residents of Great Neck. She will have it converted into a dwelling house. The church is one of the most fashionable on the island, and some time most rashlohable on the island, and some time ago there was a misunder-standing between the vestry and the landlord, who opened a saloon almost opposite the church entrance. He thought that he would secure the patronage of employes of the wealthy summer colony, but the place was boycotted. The business soon became so poor that the proprietor was glad to accept the offer of Miss King.

Our Peg Selected Oak Cabinet, with glass top incasing for home phonographs $16.50.
All Edison Records, 39c., or $4.25 a dozen.

CHANNEL DEEP, INLET SHALLOW. MORE MONEY NEEDED IN HUNTINGTON HARBOR Huntington, Long Island, Aug. 26.-The work of dredging and widening the channel at Huntington, under the appropriation of $7,500, is about complete. The work has been done under the direction of United States Engineer Lacey. The channel from the Huntington Lumber and Coal Company's pier to the yacht club house is now 140 feet wide and 8 feet deep at low water. Below the yacht club's pier a channel 80 feet wide, with 8 feet of water at low tide, has been dug to deep water. water at low tide, has been dug to deep water.

The completion of this work permits vessels drawing fifteen feet of water to reach the upper piers.

An effort is now to be made to get an appropriation for deepening and improving the channel at the inlet. There is a shoal at the entrance to the harbor, which prevents boats drawing much warr from entering except at high water. A small appropriation only would be needed to remove this, so that vessels drawing fifteen feet of water could enter or leave at any tide.

CHRISTINE ZIEMANN'S ODD WILL.

Christine Ziemann, who died in Evergreen-ave a few days ago, in her will left a feather bed and tio to the Wartburg Orphan Farm School at Mount Vernon. She also made arrangements for the payment of her funeral expenses, and for a headstone in the following language:

"To pay to Mr. Rudolph Gate, of Middle Village, stone cutter, $15, balance due him on a headstone which has cost $40, $20 of which are paid."

The executor of the will, the Rev. D. W. Peterson, of Middle Village, who is to get the remainder of the estate, amounting in money to about $150 is busy with the task of collecting and publishing the writings of the dead woman, who was known in some German circles as a writer of processing poetr
